ASSOCIATE

Alexander Rowan is an associate attorney at Dunlap, Bennett & Ludwig, focusing on commercial and intellectual property litigation and dispute resolution. Alex has a technical background in computer science and technology.

Alexander has successfully represented clients across a broad prospective of litigation, including successfully suing to get a $22M+ judgment against real estate investors who cheated the client and hid the property under a series of shell companies, and a jury verdict against an insurance company that refused to pay out to the client when it argued the claim was excluded, and defending clients by successfully getting dismissals of claims against various commercial clients, and negotiating settlements, among others.

Outside of his legal life, Alexander enjoys spending time in any form with his wife and daughter, and is an avid Christian. Aside from that, he also enjoys playing video games, French Horn, boxing, wakeboarding, and hiking.
